Connecting the headphones

Each extremity of the cables has an indicator: “L” for left and “R” for right (fig. 1). Make sure you connect each end of the cable to the correct headphone inputs which are also labelled “L” and “R” on the underside of the ear-pieces next to the connectors (fig. 2). To get the best sound quality out of your Clear headphones, we highly recommend using the balanced 4-pin XLR cable.

Storage

You can store your headphones in the carrying case. You simply have to disconnect the cable and store it in the case in the intended compartment (fig. 3).

Care and maintenance

It is advisable to clean your headphones regularly to limit wear and tear. To do so, we recommend using a clean, dry lint-free cloth. After much use, wear marks may be visible on the ear cushions. In this case, if you wish to, the ear cushions can be replaced. Ask your local Focal retailer for replacement parts. The ear cushions are easy to unclip by pulling them, and to clip back into place by pushing them back onto the ear-pieces, making sure the 5 pins are correctly in place (fig. 4).
